Turn your ideas into a story

Do you have lots of great ideas that would make for interesting stories? Do you want to learn how to write an engaging book?

During this acclaimed writing exercise-led course, award-winning author A. R. Levett guides you through establishing the possibilities and challenges inherent in your idea, the characters who populate it, the main conflict they will be involved in, the character growth arc, and more. You will walk away with a solid story premise and the confidence to begin writing.
