

THE WRITER'S WAY

A Creative Development Cluster

Cast aside your self-doubt and blast through internal blocks so your creativity can flourish.

When

Sundays 1.30pm - 4.30pm
Fortnightly 2 Feb - 30 Mar 2025
then Monthly 4 May - 7 Dec

Where

Goldfields Room
1st Floor, State Library of WA
Perth Cultral Centre, Perth

Attaining the tools and processes used by successful authors, classes inspire your personal journey towards creative development and recovery. Working in a supportive, nurturing environment, you will dissolve barriers preventing creative expression, rediscover the value of your writing talent, and learn that it's never too late to start fulfilling your dreams.

Classes will deliver:

1. Understanding of what it means to be a writer;
2. Use of techniques to free yourself from inhibition and creative stiltedness;
3. Discovery of what makes your creativity unique;
4. Development of your writing abilities; and
5. Guidance along your inner journey from multi-award winning author and mentor A. R. Levett.

The course is an ongoing, 13-class commitment for new, emerging, and experienced writers to develop their creative selves. Payment options are available.

Payment Options

$60 per class or
$700 for full course (save $80)

Bookings

<https://www.trybooking.com/CWLMN>

Booking essential

Strictly limited to 5 places only

Bookings close 19/01/2025

Enquiries

andrew@thestorymentor.com.au

“Naming and acknowledging these blockages in a safe space knocked the wind out of their sails and made them more surmountable. It helped me acknowledge my humanity and gave me the courage and determination to overcome them and be free to express myself.”
— 2024 participant

“There was so much fresh, useful information and ideas... I learnt so much about writing and also about myself... A rich course indeed.”

— Eva Cronstedt,
2024 course participant

